Here is information about us and what we do.

We are a volunteer organization. The Elm Fork Chapter is one of about 50 Texas Master Naturalist chapters in the State. Our Chapter has close to 200 members who provide volunteer service on multiple projects throughout Denton, Wise and Cooke counties. The following describes in general some of the things we do.

We clear, build, maintain and lead hikes on several nature trails, providing the area's children and adults with exposure to, and knowledge of, the many natural areas in our communities. In that effort, we are available to teach people about birds, trees, plants, wildlife, prairies, wetlands and various habitats that we conserve and sustain here in our region of North Texas. We organize and participate in Citizen Science projects that monitor and report data on the health of natural areas and their species. We share our knowledge gained through our training and continuing education to teach others, in classrooms as well as outdoor settings. And to ensure the sustainability of our own organization, our members apply their various talents in communications, technology support, creative arts, fundraising, marketing and hospitality to help build a broader community of dedicated advocates of nature.

Please tell us about you.

Goals of the Texas Master Naturalist Program

To provide services to the community through public educational programs that promote understanding and conservation of our natural resources, that foster an appreciation of the diversity of our plant and animal species and promote stewardship and conservation of our natural environment; and that provide opportunities for Texas Master Naturalists to use and expand their knowledge and skills in ways that will benefit and interest the volunteers and promote the Texas Master Naturalist program.

Volunteer Pledge

I understand that in exchange for the training made possible through the Texas Master Naturalist program, I will volunteer at least forty (40) hours of my time to the Texas Master Naturalist program within one year and I will complete the annual eight (8) hours of continuing education requirements.
