

Exotic Invasive Plants

The term “exotic invasive” plants is used for non-native plants that may outcompete natives and cause economic and environmental harm. Not all exotic, or introduced, plants are invasive, and some native plants can be aggressive, dominating an area.

