

More books!

Understanding the interconnections of the natural world is the foundation of appreciating the role of native plants!

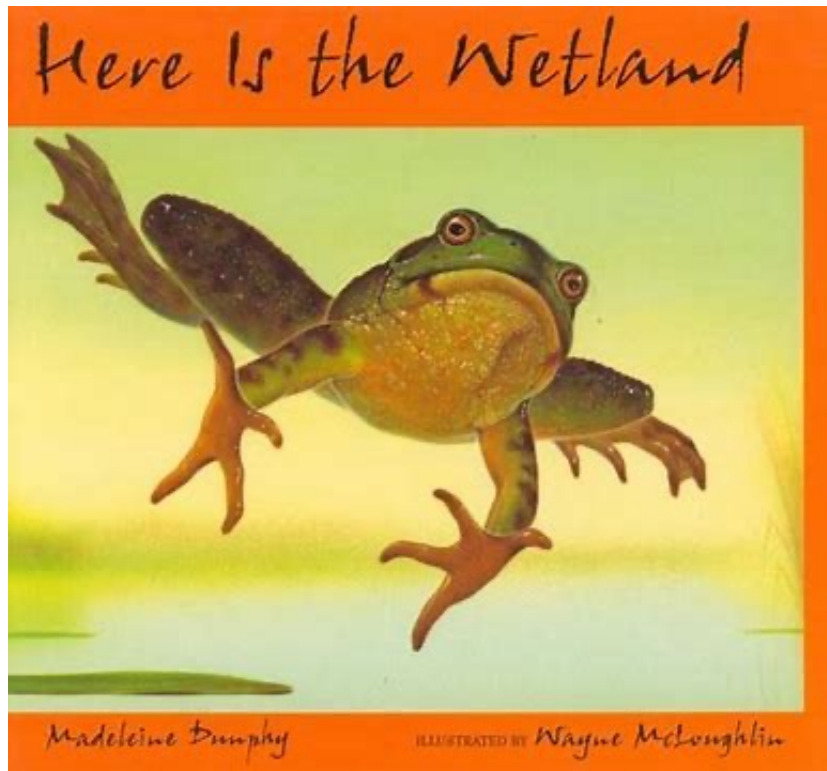

Mushroom
in the Rain
by Mirra
Ginsburg

The more it rains,
the more animals
that can fit under the mushroom.

Two books about the interconnections of the natural world

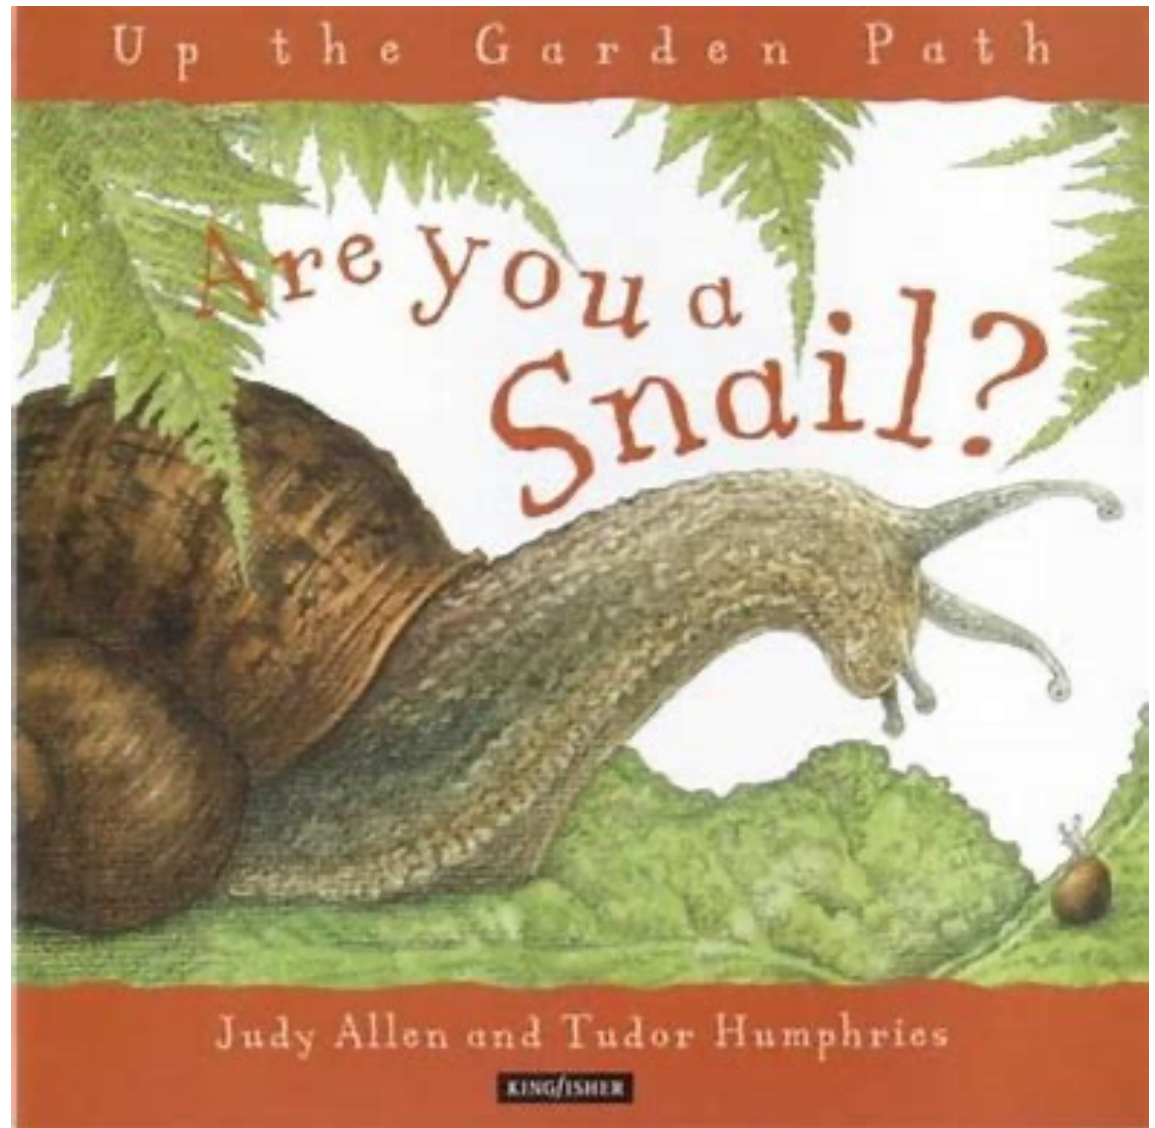

Here Is the Wetlands

The Prairie That Nature Built

Are You a Snail? By Judy Allen and Tudor Humphries

A Mammal
Is an Animal by Lizzy
Rockwell

This is a simple introduction to taxonomy for young children.

Under One Rock by Anthony D.
Fredericks

This book is about all the things that live on and in soil.

Rotten by Anita Sanchez

This book is about decomposers and detritivores!

Two simple books for the youngest!

Wormy Worm

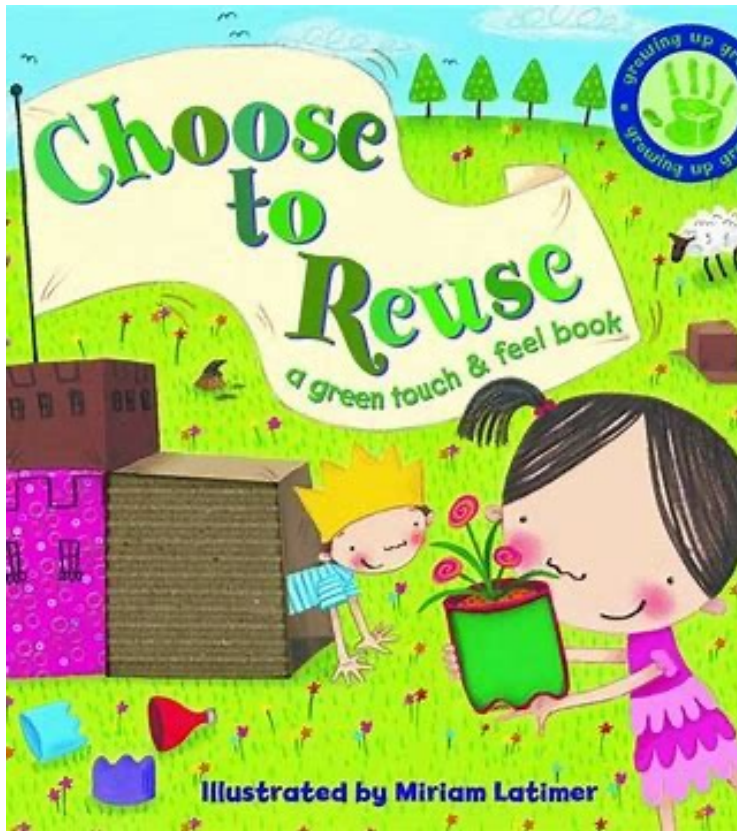

The Little Gardener

We take care of the Earth!

Choose to Reuse

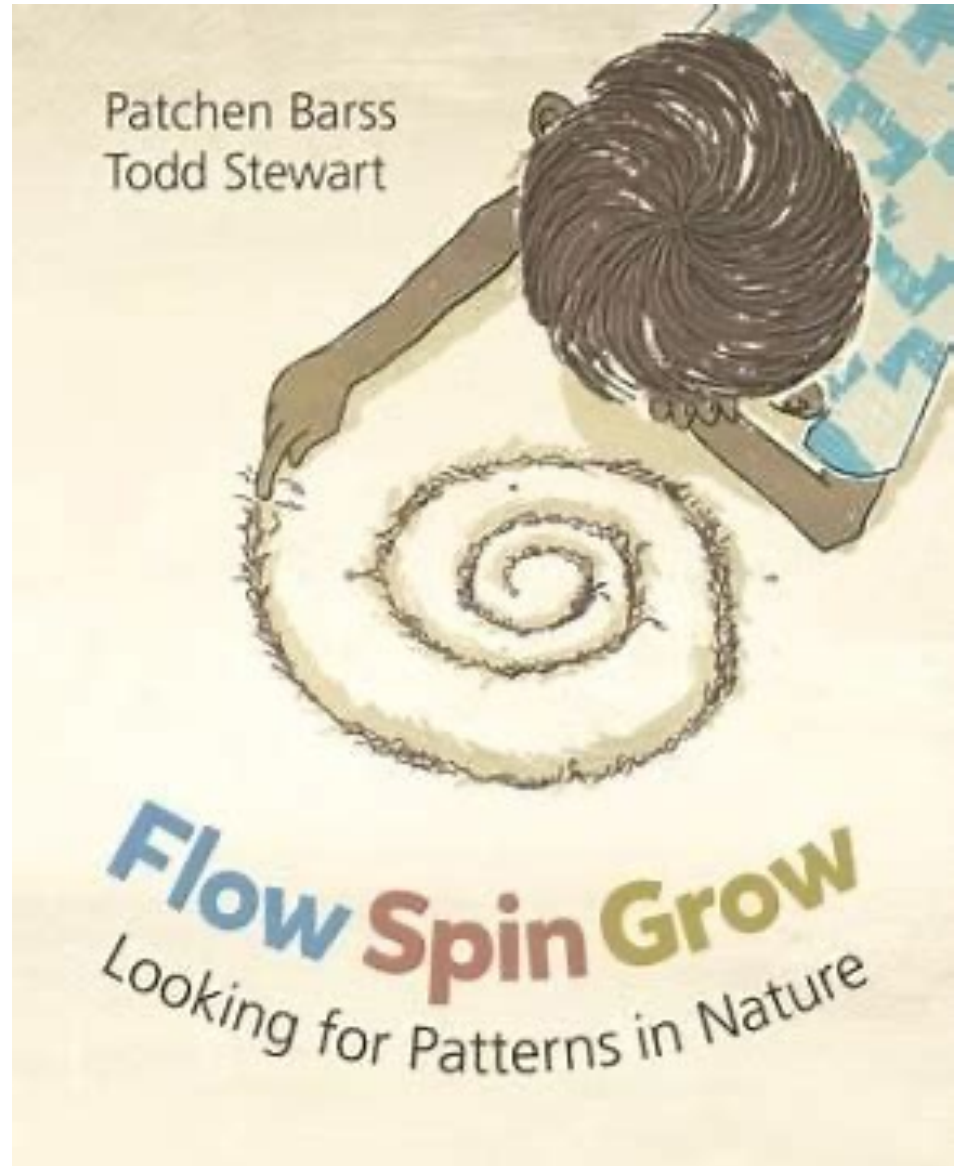

Don't Throw That Away

Flow Spin Grow by Patchen Barss and
Todd
Stewart

Patterns in nature!

....and more and more....

Books books books!

