

SUSAN POHLEN – TEXAS MASTER NATURALIST-ELM FORK CHAPTER

Susan grew up as a military dependent, living in Japan and Germany as a child until her father retired and returned to the old homestead in Southern Louisiana. She joined the Air Force herself in 1979, travelling to the Philippine Islands for her first assignment. Upon returning to the states, she met her husband, also in the Air Force. After several years, Susan transferred to the Air National Guard, retiring as a major in 1999. They moved to North Texas in conjunction with her husband's second career as a Logistics professor, living in Denton for five years before moving to northern Denton County. She always loved nature and became a Texas Master Naturalist volunteer in 2007. Susan believes becoming a Master Naturalist has made her a better person, opening her eyes to the wonders of nature. She loves learning about nature and sharing her passion with others.
